

To whom it may concern,

Please consider my application for the post-doctoral position at Microsoft Research. My primary research interests lie in the area of microeconomic theory, market design, the economics of digitization, and industrial organization. Microsoft Research is the unique place where the research can be the most impactful for the tech industry, and I would be happy to contribute to this community. My job market paper, CV, and the research statement are attached as separate files.

Sincerely,
Gleb Romanyuk
